CONNECTICUT STATE DENTAL ASSOCIATION ANNOUNCES WEBSITE UPDATE

The website now offers a valuable resource to the public – list of free dental services

HARTFORD, CT— The Connecticut State Dental Association (CSDA) today announces the availability of their latest website features. The CSDA recently updated the website to include a calendar of free dental services taking place throughout the state.

“We want to be a resource to the public,” said Carol Dingeldey, CSDA Executive Director. “Connecticut dentists and oral hygiene professionals throughout the state step up on a regular basis to provide free dental services to those who would not otherwise be able to afford them.”

This CSDA charitable dental outreach calendar lists everything from health fairs to free dental programs taking place throughout the state. “By sharing these opportunities with the public, we hope to provide them with a service they may not otherwise receive,” continued Dingeldey.

Programs listed on the charitable dental outreach calendar are not coordinated by the CSDA, but are provided by dental practices and other health organizations throughout the state. The CSDA is acting as a resource for informing the public about these programs and services. Although there are many dental services listed on the calendar, not all Connecticut programs are shown. The CSDA is only able to list programs that we are told about and some of the programs may have requirements such as appointments being needed, age and/or region restraints.

Please visit the CSDA website to view the charitable dental outreach calendar at:
